GRENADA

The Spice of the Caribbean

This fragrant destination may boast more spices per mile than anywhere else in the world, but its essence is more complex than that. Nine black-sand shores and 45 white beaches lend visual character to the sensory mix, along with island-wide music and cultural festivals. Taste buds dance in Market Square and Grand Anse restaurants, and for rum connoisseurs, there's the water-powered River Antoine Rum Distillery. Nearby, find the solar-powered Grenada Chocolate Company cottage factory, where a Balthazar River tube ride ends with organic cocoa and goat dairy, and fresh-caught seafood served every Friday.

After all, all routes lead to water here. A premier yachting center, it's renowned for game fishing. Experienced divers visit just for the Bianca C, the Caribbean's largest underwater wreck. Even the plentiful hiking trails lead to multi-tiered waterfalls or back down to beaches, where visitors can go whale- and dolphin-watching or kayaking in quiet Egmont Harbor. In Grenada, you can spice it up however you like.
